

Amendment to the Abstract:

Please replace the previously submitted abstract with the following abstract:

The present invention provides growth-regulatory compositions of acylcyclohexanedione derivatives together with ethephon for the treatment of pome fruit which reduces the vegetative growth while simultaneously not substantially reducing floral development after the treatment.